Hey Patrick,

Looks like we received a few records from you this morning just before 9 but nothing after. Could you verify these are the records you sent.

Before we put this into production, could you make sure you are sending "BriteBox" under the company instead of test.

Thanks!
Jordan

OK all - I beleive things are working. I am putting this up in another spot too, because the geotarget is pretty tight it might take a bit to see much volume.

I have about 12 meetings today so I will be unable to keep much of an eye on it.

Please let me know you at least see something on the production post.

Hey guys - I am working on this.

It looks like I am getting in getting this error now - using fake data.

```
{"err":1,"message":"This lead has been suppressed"}

Im going to put it live now and see what we have in the morning.

Sure, you can either send the data as a query string or under the request body, it's up to you. Depending on the programming language or application you are using I may be able to help out a bit more. Judging by the error you were getting it sounds like the zip code isn't being sent.

Below is an example curl request with the string we sent a few days ago, along with the response and request headers. In bold is what you should be sending.

```
curl -X POST -H "Content-Type: multipart/form-data; boundary=---- WebKitFormBoundary7MA4YWxkTrZu0gW"
```

```
"http://69.28.72.94:8099/api.php?email=test%40yahoo.com&zip=12345&first_name=testy&last_name=
mctesterson&phone_number=4072802480&address=testy&city=Lynn&state=FL&postal_code=12345 &country_code=US&ip=127.0.0.1&company=test"
```

```
{"err":0,"message":"Successfully imported lead"}
```

```
/api.php?email=test%40yahoo.com&zip=12345&first_name=testy&last_name=mctesterson&
mp;phone_number=4072802480&address=testy&city=Lynn&state=FL&postal_code=12
345&country_code=US&ip=127.0.0.1&company=test HTTP/1.1
```

```
Host: 69.28.72.94:8099

Jordan — Any way you can do a little example page that posts to your API the way you are looking for?

Patrick, feel free to give me a call and we can hop on a webex or something to get this finalized.

Thanks!

Is it possible to send me a string exactly how you want it formatted? That will make it a little easier on me.

Is there a # i should call if i get a free window?

Heads up I have been working on your post tonight .

I am getting the following error.
{"err":1,"message":"ZipCode is a required field."}

I have tried using "ZipCode" per the error and postal_code per the instructions but I can seem to get it to work.

I am sending zip=55301 - which isnt in coverage, but the error seems to say it is just missing. Can you guys advise?

Hey Tyson - i am back to work had a few days off with my kid in tow from out of state.

2 things

1- do you have an IO or PO we want to user?

2- Can i get a sample of the string for posting, i see the instructions but not sure how to format.

awesome- im off to the races here.

I need to send this one to our India people to get the geotargets in place, should be ready to send traffic tomorrow. Might be better to plan to go live Monday.

Do you have a PO or IO you want to use or should I draft one?

Tyson - thanks for getting this over. I had a crazy day and I will be a little slammed on personal matters until mid next week.

That said I'm going to get you set up asap, and drive leads asap. I am getting a ticket in now to onboard you. We have good volume and I'm eager to see how it works.

I am curious to know what a closed sale is for you, is a credit card required? Is the consumer asked to call in to a utility to make a switch? I'd like to know the process as I place this so I know what not to do and what to do!
